Executive Summary

HELENA website was launched immediately after HELENA project had started. Besides coordination support, this website aimed at facilitating the dissemination of the project results. To establish this website, the Mihajlo Pupin Institute undertook both website design and interactive portal functionality support. From the functionality aspect, the web portal comprised two main sections: a public section (accessible to everyone) with a view to dissemination and gathering general information about the project and a private section (accessible to the consortium members only) for collaborative work used for sharing and exchanging information between project partners.
